

AMBITIONS OF RULERS OF GERMANY MUST BE EFFECTUALLY DESTROYED

Secretary of State Tells Officers in Training Camp Why United States Is Battling With Allies, That Germany's Ambitions Must Be Forever Crushed

(Associated Press By U. S. Naval Communication Service.)
MADISON BARRACKS, New York, July 30.—Secretary of State Lansing visited the training camp here yesterday and addressed an audience of 1700 of the men who are undertaking the strenuous training to make officers for the new army. His talk was a stirring one and roused his hearers to enthusiasm for the cause of the country and its allies. The yoke of autocracy, he said, threatened to burden the whole world as it now burdened the citizenry of Germany.

"I am convinced," said Lansing, "that the Germans cannot shake off the yoke of autocracy which burdens them until the united democracies of the world shall once and for all time utterly destroy the over-weening, inordinate and evil ambitions of the rulers of Germany."

He added that the only way that the peace of the world can be restored is for the Allies to win and that win they will.

CAUSE IS THAT OF HUMANITY

"Our cause is the cause of justice, the cause of right, the cause of humanity," he continued. "There is no doubt of the evil purpose of the German leaders. There is no doubt left as to what is their ambition for they have made it clear that they will stop at nothing short of world dominion. This would mean the death of popular government, the death of popular rights, the death of liberty and the crushing of democracy beneath the iron heel of autocracy."

In an interview which Secretary Lansing gave to the Associated Press before leaving last evening he said that the future of the nation is staked upon the result of the war.

OUR OWN BATTLES, NOT OTHERS

"If any of you have the idea," said Lansing, "that you are fighting the battles of others and not your own, the sooner you can get away from any such idea the better it will be for you and for all the rest of us."

"Imagine that Germany had become the victor in this war because the United States had remained neutral. Who would be the next victim of those who are seeking the mastery of the world? Who else could it be than the United States? Would not these states of ours with their enormous wealth, with their marvelous natural resources arouse the lust for gain, the cupidity of the victors, impoverished and they would be with the tremendous strain of the war which they had won? Would not democracy be the sole obstacle which would stand between the rulers of Germany and the realization of their supreme ambition, the domination of not only Europe but of the whole world?"

ATLANTIC OCEAN IS NO BARRIER

"Do you for a moment think that the Atlantic Ocean would bar the way to their efforts for still further aggrandizement, still further conquest with the temptation of wealth and world power on this side of the sea? Do you think Germany would hesitate merely because we preserved our neutrality? Has its course towards other nations given any ground for such a belief? Ask yourselves those questions and answer them for yourself."

Secretary Lansing closed his interview by saying that no nation could be safe from foreign aggression, the liberty of no individual could be sure and secure until the military despotism which is holding the Germans in its mailed fist shall have been made impotent. To do this, to insure the safety of the world, the nations, of the individual citizens it is absolutely essential that the ambition of the leaders of the German Empire be thwarted by the certain and unmistakable defeat of their armies in Europe.

FIFTY ARE TRAPPED BY FOREST FIRES

Citizens of Nelson, British Columbia, Spend Sunday in Fighting Back Fierce Blaze

(Associated Press By U. S. Naval Communication Service.)
NELSON, British Columbia, July 30.—Serious forest fires swept a large section of the surrounding country yesterday, approaching within twelve miles of this city before they were finally controlled. Already four charred bodies have been found and it is reported that fifty others were trapped by the fire and are probably lost.

Fires which have been burning in the forests on the slopes north of the Quetzal Ridge to the east of here gained in intensity yesterday morning, spread rapidly and assumed threatening proportions. An alarm was brought in and dozens of fire fighters went out and for several hours combatted the flames by every means they knew. It was not until late in the afternoon that the flames were controlled and the danger at an end. Numbers of homes in the various clearings of the foot hills were destroyed and the loss of life cannot yet be determined.

DEMING GUARD CAMP TO BE HIGHLY MORAL

Good Influences Will Surround the Soldiers

(By The Associated Press.)
DEMING, New Mexico, July 30.—None of the "harpies" whom Secretary Daniels has warned away from navy barracks will find a welcome at Deming when national guardsmen open their training camp here. Everything is being arranged with an idea of making the moral atmosphere of the camp and its surroundings such that no mother can complain in behalf of her son.

Roy Smith Wallace of the war department has been here arranging details for entertainment of the soldier boys during the training period. Through the influence of local persons, a lecture and Chautauqua tent will be provided and theatrical troupes will be brought to entertain the soldiers. University extension work will be undertaken under direction of the State university and books will be loaned by the State library.

PACIFIST MEETING AT SWANSEA IS PREVENTED

(Associated Press By U. S. Naval Communication Service.)
SWANSEA, Wales, July 30.—There is no peace sentiment of importance here. When an effort was made by a small body of pacifists here to hold a "peace meeting" yesterday afternoon it was broken up. Crowds of angry citizens quickly gathered, formed into an orderly body and marched to the hall where the meeting was to have been held. They demanded that the gathering should leave and when no heed was paid to the demand proceeded to eject them and close the doors.

Prohibition Vote To Be Taken In Senate Wednesday

Indications Are That Vote Will Be Close: Pending Legislation Promises To Prolong Session of Congress Indefinitely

(Associated Press By U. S. Naval Communication Service.)
WASHINGTON, July 30.—Indefinite prolongation of the congressional session is indicated by the important measures and bills of minor interest that still remain to be disposed of, and indications are that on some of the measures debate will be prolonged. This week the program in the senate includes food control, the Sheppard prohibition resolution and war revenue legislation. Today the Sheppard resolution for nation-wide prohibition will be debated and it is expected that a vote will be taken Wednesday. Indications at this time, as shown by preliminary estimates of the probable vote, are that the result will be close and will hinge on the final decision of a few senators who have been non-committal on the stand which they will take. In the house the chances of its passage are considered even stronger if it shall reach that body, as it must if ratified by the senate. The house in committee of the whole will take up consideration of the five billion dollar army estimates today.

DEADLOCK ON FOOD CONTROL ARRIVES

Only One Point To Be Settled Is On Administration and Senate Expected To Yield

(Associated Press By U. S. Naval Communication Service.)
WASHINGTON, July 30.—After having made good progress towards agreement and the preparation of a final report at previous meetings the conferees on the conflicting food control bills met yesterday in a Sunday session and reached a deadlock which was unbroken when adjournment was taken. A conference with President Wilson is planned for this morning by the leaders of both houses. It is thought that the senate will finally yield if the President remains insistent upon the point of difference where he sides with the house members of the committee.

The point upon which the house and senate conferees have failed to reach an agreement is whether there shall be a single headed executive of the food control administration or whether there shall be a congressional commission to supervise war expenditures and a board of administrators for food control as provided in the senate bill. Upon all other points in controversy, including the prohibition of provisions, agreements have been reached. It was determined by the leaders yesterday afternoon to confer with the President today, and it seemed probable that if he shall be insistent the senate conferees will yield. As President Wilson has already expressed himself on the matter of administration of food control, and asked the house leaders to hold to the house plan of a single executive, it appears probable that he will stand firm on this point and thus bring about the final agreement on the lines which he is known to desire.

(By The Associated Press.)
MEXICO CITY, July 30.—Report has been made to the department of war by the military authorities of Morelos of the death of Eufemio Zapata, brother of the rebel leader, at or near Cuatla, Morelos, June 18. According to the report, Zapata, learning that Gen. Siderio Camacho, a Zapata leader, had surrendered to the government forces and accepted amnesty, attacked Cuatla with the object of capturing the man who had deserted the Zapata ranks. In the assault Zapata was shot three times and killed while leading his men against the town.

FORGED BREAD TICKETS CIRCULATE IN GERMANY

AMSTERDAM, July 30.—According to the Lokal Anzeiger, five million forged bread tickets have been put into circulation in Germany, and the loss of bread thereby is estimated at over 300,000 tons.

EARLY PEACE EARNEST WISH OF AUSTRIANS IS ASSERTED

Responsibility For War Does Not Enter Into Situation Now But Responsibility For Continuance Is All Important

FOREIGN MINISTER IS DIRECT IN HIS SPEECH

Michaelis Is Criticised By Implication and Assurance Expressed That Entente Will Never Be Able To Crush Teutons

(Associated Press By U. S. Naval Communication Service.)
VIENNA, July 30.—In an interview which he gave out yesterday to the newspaper representatives of Vienna the Austro-Hungarian foreign minister took occasion to criticize the stand of Michaelis, indirectly and by implication, when he said that the time had gone by when it might be asked who was responsible for the beginning of the war that had involved most of the great Powers of the world, and the hour had come when peace was the all-important question. This utterance was in the course of a discussion of the recent speech of Lloyd George criticizing the one delivered by Michaelis in the reichstag in which the former characterized the speech of Michaelis as a sham. He insisted that the British statesman had erred when he characterized the peace resolutions passed by the Austrian reichstag as being also a sham.

The foreign minister reiterated that Austria-Hungary is ready to accept an honorable peace and desires to speedily end the war. But, he added, the country is ready to continue the fight to a finish if the Entente declines to negotiate peace on the understanding that the terms must be fair and honorable to all concerned. He is convinced, he said, that the Entente can never succeed in crushing the Teutons. Austria has no desire to crush the Entente and further battling is useless, a waste of money and worse than that, a waste of the manhood of all the nations. It is necessary in the interests of humanity for the warring nations to reach an understanding and to do this speedily. If possible this should be done at once.

It is beside the question now to discuss who began the war. The issue today is all important—who shall end it and upon what terms shall peace be negotiated. Peace responsibility is a matter of no importance now; it is present responsibility which counts, and this responsibility Austria-Hungary is ready to end by an agreement upon peace terms.

MICHAELIS ANSWERS LLOYD GEORGE SPEECH THROUGH NEWSPAPERS

(Associated Press By U. S. Naval Communication Service.)
BERLIN, July 30.—Chancellor Michaelis yesterday expressed himself in reply to the criticisms of Lloyd George to his recent speech before the reichstag in an interview which he gave to the newspaper representatives who are in Berlin and whom he had summoned to him for the purpose. The utterance of Michaelis, he declared, is the purpose of the Allies and that determination must be met by equal determination on the part of the German nation.

Michaelis declared to the assembled newspaper men that the recent speech of Lloyd George can mean nothing else than that the British do not desire peace on any terms that could be acceptable to Germany and that an agreement can be reached except on a conclusion of the war on terms which would mean the enslavement of Germany and her people.

Michaelis denied the imputations of Lloyd George that Germany had brought on the war and had done this with desire and intent of conquest of territory.

If Germany is to renounce indemnities and the acquisition of the territory which it now holds by force of arms there are other points which the Entente must also renounce, the chancellor insisted.

TREASURES OF CHURCHES ARE TAKEN BY THIEVES

(By The Associated Press.)
MEXICO CITY, July 30.—Churches of art and jewels of great value recently have been despoiled by what is believed by the police to be an organized band of thieves. They pretend to be worshipping but when the church candles are not watching them, steal articles of value. The latest church to suffer from these depredations was the Church of Those Who Have Taken Vows, where a collar of diamonds and pearls was taken from the neck of an image of the Virgin.

RUSS FALL BACK HUNDRED MILES

Retreat Continues With Heavy Losses of Guns, Munitions and Men and Faithful Deserted

(Associated Press By U. S. Naval Communication Service.)
LONDON, July 30.—The Russians have retreated for approximately a hundred miles from the advance points which Kerensky had attained in his earlier aggressive. The main army is now on Russian soil with the German army following them hotly. The north and south wings are likewise in full retreat. Efforts to check the disaster are meeting with slight success. Thousands of men and millions of dollars worth of guns, munitions and equipment have been lost and abandoned to the enemy.

Wherever the Russian troops remain faithful and undertake to check and fight back the advancing foe they are outnumbered and overcome. The recalcitrant forces will not assist them but desert on every occasion, leaving the faithful to face almost certain death or follow them in retreat. The retirement of the Russian forces has resulted in the formation of a series of arched lines of defense. The lines are with the northern end at Wladimir and the southern end at Kuly. The blood-and-iron policy which is to be employed against the disaffected troops is soon to be put into operation and enforced. Kerensky is on route to the headquarters to confer with the leaders and give them their instructions for dealing with the situation and to formulate definite plans to stop the retreat and compel the soldiers to stand and face the enemy. In the southern Carpathians the Russians are facing the Germans and holding them, and in the upper Patra Valley they yesterday gained considerable ground.

EXPECTS RUSSIA TO RETURN TO FIGHT

Provisional Government Suits Military Better Than Discarded Regime and Will Win

(Associated Press By U. S. Naval Communication Service.)
LONDON, July 30.—Confidence that Russia will reorganize its army and become a strong and valuable factor in the war against Germanism was expressed by Sir Edward Carson to an Associated Press representative last evening.

The provisional government, from the viewpoint of the military, is immeasurably better than the old regime, he says, and he believes that this view will prevail in the rank and file of the army and with the workmen as well, in the end, despite the present state of affairs that has been brought about by German propaganda.

This war is one of definitive democracy against imperialism and England intends to fight on until victory is won, he says.

SERVICE DECREASED AND FARE INCREASED

(By The Associated Press.)
ROTTERDAM, July 12.—Fewer trains and higher fares are the order of the day in Germany. The restriction of the railroad traffic is very drastic. Whereas formerly twenty-nine trains ran in each direction daily between Berlin and the West, now there are only thirteen. Between Berlin and the East previously there were thirteen or fourteen connections; now the number is limited to five or six. The increased railroad fares will become effective January 1, 1918, and are in addition to the tax on reserved seat-tickets, which already amounts to 16 per cent for first class, fourteen per cent for second, twelve per cent for third and ten per cent for fourth-class tickets. The general increase in fares will be ten per cent.

MEN'S LEAGUE TO HEAR CALIFORNIA PASTOR

The Men's League of Central Union Church announces an innovation in the shape of a mid-summer meeting to be held on Monday, August 6. An opportunity to hear Rev. A. W. Palmer of Oakland gave one of his talks before the men of the church was quite too good a chance to lose so the executive committee of the league is rushing through plans for a record-breaking gathering. At five-thirty in the church parlors there will be an opportunity for the members and guests to meet Mr. Palmer, then at six the Women's Society will serve a supper in the parish house. Music will be a feature of the program, but the main interest of the occasion will center round the address of the evening which will be given by Mr. Palmer. Among the men's organizations of California Mr. Palmer is much sought after as a speaker and as he has been prominently connected with much of the civic reform and social betterment of his home city he has collected a fund of experience interesting to many different types of men.

BELT ROAD WORK STARTS THIS WEEK

Building of Quarters For Forces Will Be First Step in Half Million Dollar Undertaking

Construction of the belt road is in sight and preliminary work is to start this week in the building of quarters and headquarters for the forces which will soon undertake the actual road building. Construction will commence as soon as the money is received for the bonds which Treasurer McCarthy has gone to the mainland to sell. This is the information given to The Advertiser by Charles N. Arnold, chairman of the road committee of the board of supervisors.

Tomorrow or next day a force of men at Kaneohe will start putting up for the city and county buildings which will be needed in connection with the building of the belt road. There are to be the headquarters of the engineers and living quarters and supply and store houses for the necessary tools and machinery. It has been decided to make Kaneohe the first camp site for the work and from there it can proceed as from a central point. First it will be headquarters for the engineering crew that makes the preliminary survey for the road. This can be started without waiting for the proceeds of the bonds to be made available and with funds which are now properly applicable to the purpose. Later the construction force will be organized there.

When actual road work starts it will begin at the foot of the Bell at the point where the present paving ends. From there it will be continued toward Kaneohe and then from Kaneohe on or it may be determined to work on from Kaneohe at the same time that the road making between that point and the Bell is in progress for Kaneohe is a central and convenient point from which to work.

With the exception perhaps of Kalaheua Avenue before it was closed, there is no road on the island of Oahu that has brought more criticism upon the old board of supervisors than the one which is followed by automobiles in making the trip around the island. Visitors from the mainland have complained of the rough road in the same breath that they praised the scenic beauty of the trip and those complaints have been in turn taken up by residents, commercial bodies and the promotion committee.

Long Source of Criticism
"How can we bring tourists here with promises of beautiful drives when they find such road conditions on their arrival?" is the question the boosters ask. And the only "come back" the board of supervisors has was "How can we build and improve the roads of the island and especially the belt line unless we are given the money to build roads?" Then came the legislature and its liberal appropriations for road building in the next two years. The excuse for bad roads, or at least for that particular road, is now removed, or will be when the bond money is in hand. The road committee recognizes this and is making ready for an early start at the first moment that start is possible and so it comes that the belt road is in sight.

Hopes For Great Things
Arnold has great hopes for what the road committee and the board of supervisors will accomplish for good streets and good roads during the present administration. He feels that the experience he had during his last term and when the board of supervisors were working under difficulties will stand in good stead now that funds will be available with which much needed work can be accomplished. The need of which was recognized by the old board but which it was unable to undertake. Not the least important of such construction is the belt road and Arnold is determined that when it is completed only sources of complaint and criticism will have been permanently removed.

PANTRYMAN IS JAILED BY ELEVATED TASTES

Aspires Above Income and Uncle Sam Gets Him

A Chilean pantryman of the Wilhelmina is in jail, to be charged with smuggling, and the Matson liner will perform sail tomorrow minus that important adjunct of the steward's department. Elevated tastes did it. He aspired above his income and fell foul of the custom house.

The man's name was not given out last night but formal charges will be filed this morning. It is announced, the gentleman of the pantry having spent twenty-four hours in the cooler revising his ideas. Specifically he tried to run off the Dutch liner Wilma with an alien kimono. He was nabbed at the plank by Inspector John Oliveira and the kimono was found worn on the inside instead of the outside he was questioned and failed to prove the kimono was legitimately in the United States.

And what is a liner without a pantryman?

GREATEST AIR BATTLE WAGED WITH BRITONS IN ADVANTAGE

Entente Powers Are Aggressive Along Whole of East Front With Infantry, Artillery and Air Craft Being Employed

MANY PLANES DESTROYED IS CLAIM OF BOTH SIDES

Bombardment of German Trenches Is Kept Up By Allies At Many Points and Counter Attacks Win Gains For French

(Associated Press By U. S. Naval Communication Service.)
PARIS, July 30.—Along the entire east front the Entente Allies continued in the aggressive yesterday using infantry, artillery and air forces in successful efforts against the Huns. Not in the history of the war have there been air maneuvers which can approach those of yesterday employed by British and Germans but in which the balance favors the former. At no time in any individual engagements of air craft have the losses been so heavy. According to the claims of the British the Teuton losses are treble those which the Britons admit they suffered themselves. FRENCH ATTACKS SUCCEEDED
In the Aisne region the French forces conducted a series of counter attacks against the army of the crown prince with a maximum of success and a minimum of losses. Between Hurtebise and Laboville they suppressed an offensive and gained several important positions.

In the Verdun sector the attacks of the Teutons were repulsed in every instance. On a number of points on the east front, and especially in Flanders there was a continuance of the heavy artillery fire of the past several days but the anticipated British drive has not yet been inaugurated. TERRIFIC AERIAL WARFARE
The English and German air maneuvers are unexampled in proportion in the history of the world. Thirty German planes were destroyed and two balloons were exploded. The English admitted thirteen of their air craft are missing. The Germans on the other hand claim to have destroyed forty-five British air craft and make no admissions of their own losses.

Further attempts to bomb Paris were made by the Germans again on Saturday night. On Friday the German air craft reached the suburbs of the city and inflicted some damage but the Saturday night effort was unsuccessful as none of the craft succeeded in reaching even the suburbs of the city.

GREAT BRITAIN NOW MAKES OWN DYE STUFFS

(By The Associated Press.)
MANCHESTER, July 30.—The dye trade has undergone a revolution during the war and brought prosperity to more than one British firm, owing to the necessity of inventing and manufacturing dyes formerly bought entirely from Germany. Just before the war the shares of one color and dye stuff company were obtainable at nine shillings each. Now they are selling at ninety pounds sterling.

DECLARATION OF WAR BY SIAM IS PRESENTED

(Associated Press By U. S. Naval Communication Service.)
VIENNA, July 30.—The Siamese minister yesterday presented the declaration of war of his country against the dual monarchy and demanded his passports which were granted him. He is expected to leave within the next few days.
